Forecast For Northern Ireland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Sunday 25 Apr 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Dry and largely sunny. Warm, although east coast cooler.

Today:
Any patchy low cloud, mist and fog soon clearing to leave a dry day with long spells of unbroken sunshine. Feeling warm away from the east coast, where a light onshore breeze will keep it cooler. Maximum temperature 18 deg C (64 deg F).

Tonight:
A dry and sunny evening giving way to long clear spells overnight, although cloud is expected to increase towards dawn. With light winds a local frost is likely. Minimum temperature 0 deg C (32 deg F).

Monday:
A bright day with some sunny spells, but generally rather more cloud and a little breezier than recently. Risk of a few afternoon showers along in coastal parts. Maximum temperature 16 deg C (61 deg F).

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
Rather cloudy and colder with occasional showers, wintry on hills. Best of any brighter spells across southern parts with occasionally fresh northerly or northeasterly breeze.
